

RUPLASTICA, UPAKEXPO AND RECYCLING SOLUTIONS: THE 2027 EDITION AT VDNH EXPO.

From January 26 to 29, 2027, the new season of the international exhibition alliance RUPLASTICA, UPAKEXPO and RECYCLING SOLUTIONS will take place at the newly opened VDNH EXPO Congress and Exhibition Center in Moscow.

The event will bring together leading industry professionals, manufacturers and experts from around the world, creating a unique platform for knowledge exchange, discussion of innovative solutions and the development of business partnerships.

The spacious facilities of VDNH EXPO will provide a comfortable environment for networking and business activities, featuring modern exhibition halls and dedicated meeting areas. More than 1,000 companies are expected to exhibit in Pavilions 69 and 75, showcasing a wide range of products, technologies and services.

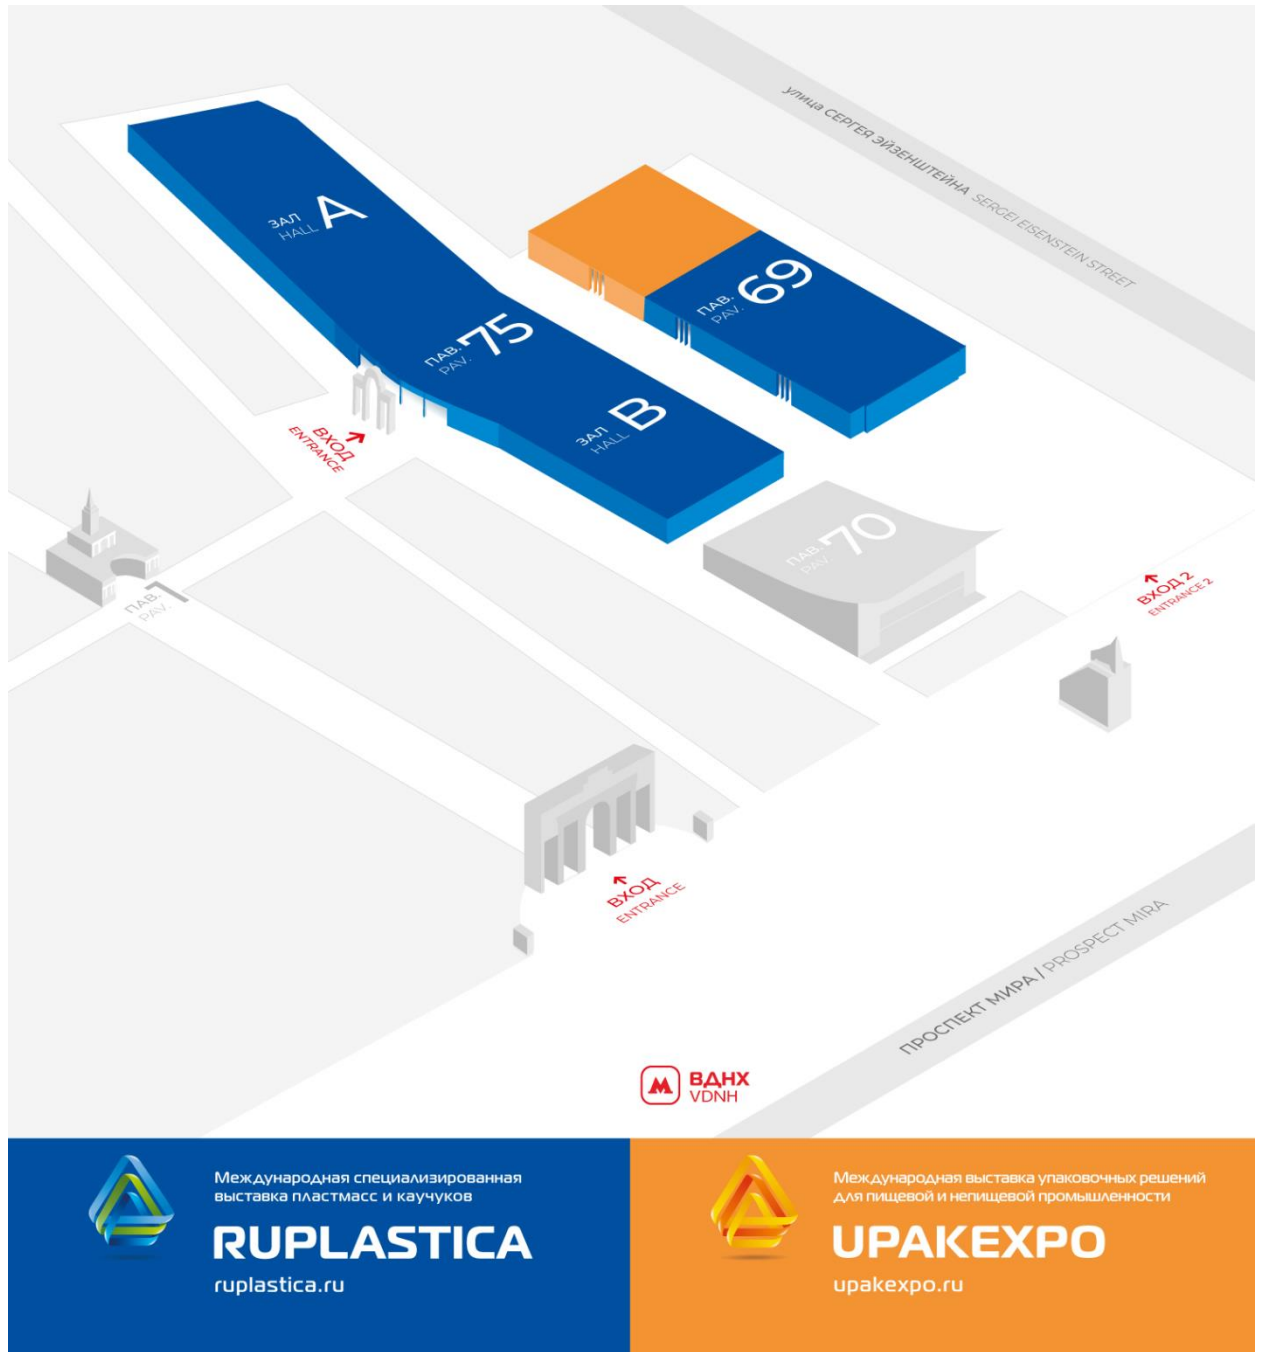

The RUPLASTICA exhibition for plastics and rubber, RECYCLING SOLUTIONS dedicated to recycling and waste management technologies, as well as the tooling and additive manufacturing sectors, will be located in Pavilion 75.

UPAKEXPO, the international exhibition for packaging solutions for food and non-food industries, together with the raw materials and auxiliary materials segments, will be presented in Pavilion 69.

“In 2027, we will not only preserve the best traditions of the alliance but also enrich the exhibition space with new opportunities, technologies and participants. The alliance will continue to serve as a key meeting point for industry professionals, offering a unique platform for sharing ideas, expertise and business opportunities. VDNH EXPO will become a new home for the alliance, bringing a fresh perspective to the exhibition, its structure and sector segmentation,” says Kirill Piskarev, Director of the Exhibition Alliance.

The alliance brings together key industry events and creates a comprehensive business platform for sourcing solutions in plastics, packaging, recycling, tooling and 3D printing. Over the years, these exhibitions have established themselves as major industry events, annually attracting leading manufacturers, suppliers and experts.

Traditionally, the event welcomes representatives of government ministries and agencies, regional authorities, industry associations, public organizations, large industrial enterprises, small and medium-sized businesses, research institutes, universities and media representatives.

The central highlight of the event will be the Business Forum, bringing together manufacturers, distributors, industry experts and market analysts. Several parallel conference streams will be held throughout the forum.

During four days of intensive business programming, participants will gain insights into the latest industry trends, engage directly with experts and senior executives, and discover innovative technologies and business solutions to support their growth and competitiveness.

The RUPLASTICA, UPAKEXPO and RECYCLING SOLUTIONS Exhibition Alliance is a powerful platform for the development of the plastics, packaging and recycling industries, facilitating knowledge exchange, business networking and new opportunities for market growth.
